Additional Loan Information and terms:

Subsidized Stafford Loan: This loan is based on unmet need. The family financial information reported on the FAFSA determines eligibility for the subsidized loan. The federal government pays the interest on these loans while the student is enrolled at least half-time (six credit hours) and during periods of deferment. Repayment begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time.

Unsubsidized Stafford Loan: This loan is based on need. The student is charged interest from the time the loan is disbursed. The student may elect to pay the interest while in school or the student may choose to capitalize the interest. (Interest payments are added to the principal amount of the loan). Capitalizing interest will increase the amount the student is required to repay. Repayment begins six months after the student ceases to be enrolled at least half-time.

Annual Amount: A freshman student (less than 30 earned credit hours) may be eligible to borrow up to $5,500. A sophomore student (30 or more earned credit hours) may be eligible to borrow up to $6,500. All students are considered freshman or sophomores.

A note on loan disbursement: Federal regulations require multiple disbursements of Federal Stafford Loans. If you apply for a loan which covers both fall and spring semesters, proceeds will be sent for onehalf of the amount in the fall semester and one-half in the spring semester. Fall only and spring only loans will also be disbursed in two payments (approximately six to eight weeks into the semester.)
