Gothic Cathedrals and the Rebirth of Notre Dame:

Please join Professor Nancy Knechtel on Thursday, October 2nd, 12:30pm, in B-114 for a walk through three glorious Gothic cathedrals in France. Saint Denis on the outskirts of Paris is the first example of Gothic architecture in the world. Inspired by the writings of Abbot Suger it exemplifies his idea of life and stained glass being a heavenly experience.

Notre Dame at Chartres is a pilgrimage church that holds a legendary sacred veil worn by the Virgin Mary and has magnificent stained glass windows that depict the laborers and craftsmen who worked on the cathedral. After a gut-wrenching fire in 2019, thousands of paid and volunteer workers worked tirelessly to bring back the most beloved monument in Paris.

We will look at the amazing steps taken to bring this gem back to life and hope you will join us.

FALL 2025 SCREENING SCHEDULE

CINEPHILES OF SUNY NIAGARA

This semester the cinephiles are hosting especially colorful movies that span genres, eras, and themes. Join us for thoughtful discussion and eye-opening screenings.

Disney's Pinocchio (1940)

hosted by Bill Blenk

Wednesday, September 24, 5PM, in E-142

Often praised as the crowning achievement of Disney's Golden Age of Animation, Disney's Pinocchio (1940) was the first animated feature film to win competitive Academy Awards. Celebrated for its extensive use of the studio's invention of the multiplane camera and its meticulous attention to animation of character and moving elements, Disney's Pinocchio still impresses modern audiences despite content involving depictions of substance abuse, violence against children, and race that would not appear in a family film made today. Join us for the art and to learn from the controversies!

Get Out (2017)

hosted by Tony Vinci

Wednesday, October 29, 2PM, in E-142

More than a horror film, Jordan Peele's Get Out is a warning. Reminding us that America is a nation that will always be haunted, Peele's film makes even the smallest of moments unsettling. Driving by a deer on the side of the road, having a polite conversation on a suburban street, taking a photograph, spinning a spoonful of sugar into tea—all become tense, even traumatic. Nominated for four Academy Awards and winner of Best Screenplay, Get Out has raised the bar for how popular entertainment can reshape our understandings of history and culture while making us rethink our own realities.

Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown (1988)

hosted by S.V. Buffamanti

Wednesday, November 12, 12PM, in E-202

More is definitely more in Pedro Almodóvar's farcical war between the sexes. This screwball comedy may be enjoyed as a blend of two cultures—classic Hollywood and Madrid—and as an exploration of connections between pleasure and pain (we are encouraged to laugh at others' relationship pain, for example). The use of color, texture, and music are quintessentially Almodóvar. Come laugh yourself silly as you are introduced to this famous auteur ... and meet a young Antonio Banderas before he became known in the USA. Muchas gracias to Bridget Beilein for opening her Spanish class to the Cinephiles.
